

ALPINE CHAMOIS HUNT IN TYROL-AUSTRIA

A FEW OUR OFFERS

ALPINE CHAMOIS

Chamois is nice animal of the Capra genus characterized by compact build with long and strong legs, the chamois is middle-sized animal. Weight of male reach 35-40 kg, females 25-30 kg. The chamois coat is yellowish brown during summer and dark brown-black during winter. The colour of coat of old animals in winter may be greyish black. White markings on the head are characteristic of this nice animal. Both male and female carry horns, ones of male are the biggest. The horns rise quickly, almost vertically, and then bend back into a hook.

ORGANIZATION OF HUNTING DAYS

Much of the hunting is done by spotting and stalking. Hunters are accompanied by experienced guides who have a very good knowledge of mountains. Hunting days can be physically demanding. Guides are used to arrange hunt based on different needs and wishes of guests. If you want challenging and very active hunt on mountains, you'll get your wish. If you prefer less physically demanding hunting days guide will accompany you through easily accessible paths that lead where you can shoot nice trophy-games.

HUNTING AREA

The hunting grounds are high alpine mountain areas exclusively located in Tyrol, around 80 km south/west of Innsbruck. The area is formed by the main chain of the Alps, with many glaciers and high peaks. Mountain fitness, good physical condition, health and appropriate equipment are therefore required. There are hardly any roads accessible by car, and ascents of several hours and stalks up to well over 2,000 m above sea level are not unusual. Beyond chamois you can hunt roe deer, red deer, black grouse, Alpine Ibex and marmot. Prices for hunting other games upon request.

4* HOTEL NEAR HUNTING AREA

*Surrounded by the mountain scenery, the 4 * Hotel is located on a sunny plateau. Each room offers views of the surrounding mountains. The traditionally furnished rooms are made of local wood, and most have a balcony. Half-board includes a rich breakfast buffet with organic products and fresh bread, traditional Tyrolean snacks in the afternoon, and a 5-course dinner. The Hotel features wood-panelled lounges, an open fireplace, and a terrace with panoramic mountain views. The spa area includes an indoor pool, a sauna, a steam bath, and a solarium. Hikes and mountain tours start right at the doorstep of the Hotel, which is located at 1,560 m above sea level.*

VISIT AUSTRIA

Austria with its strategical central position is definitely one of European's gems that offers natural, architectural and cultural richness. Vienna alone is a great reason to visit Austria where you can admire the elegance of an imperial residence in every single corner. Salzburg, Innsbruck, Graz, Klagenfurt, Linz and a lot of small beautiful towns offer countless sightseeing opportunities.

Austria is also known as top European mountain with Central Alps where you will appreciate the combination of hills with crystal-blue lake and the soft hills covered with vineyards in Lower Austria.

TYROL

Boasting some of Europe's most beautiful mountains, Tyrol offers top-quality skiing, hiking and mountaineering. But there is much more to Tyrol than that. There are historic towns of great architectural value, such as Innsbruck, Kufstein, Hall in Tyrol, Lienz, Rattenberg and Schwaz. Old castles, nature parks, attractions for families, excellent hospitality and high-quality cuisine ensure a pleasant stay in a welcoming environment.

AUSTRIAN WINES

Probably not that well-known as French or Italian wines but Austria has actually a long wine-growing tradition going back for more than 2000 years. The country's cool climate lends itself to ideal grape-growing conditions, with all number of international successful varieties such as Riesling, Sauvignon Blanc, Gelber Muskateller (Muscat Blanc à Petits Grains), Weissburgunder (Pinot Blanc), Chardonnay, Pinot Noir, Merlot, and Cabernet.

AUSTRIAN GASTRONOMY

Given its positions and history Austria offers a very multi-cultural cuisine with impacts from beyond the current Austrian borders. This richness in gastronomy is a result of its history as a multi-national empire, where all kinds of different cultures contributed their very own nuances. The Turkish invasion of Europe for example introduced the coffee bean to Viennese cooks. Furthermore, the famous "Apfelstrudel" is an Austrian version of a Turkish delicacy introduced during the Turkish occupation. The Wiener Schnitzel has probably its origin in northern part of Italy, while the sweet Palatschinken (crêpes) and the Gulasch came from the Hungarian part of the empire; the roasts and sausages were originally Southern German delicacies, the pastries originated in Bohemia. Besides the foreign influences on Austrian cuisine, every Austrian land offers own local dishes: Frittatensuppe (crêpe soup) from Styria, Speckknödel (bacon dumplings) from Tyrol; and Salzburg, Mozart's home, has contributed the so-called Salzburger Nockerln, a sweet soufflé made from eggs.
