

JAPANESE SIKA STAG, FALLOW BUCK AND MOUFLON RAM HUNTING IN THE CZECH REPUBLIC

FREE RANGE

OFFER 2025

HUNTING AREA

Fallow buck and sika stag hunting takes place in an area of approximately 800 hectares, 90% of which is woodland and 10% pasture, at an altitude of approximately 800 metres above sea level. This is a very rugged and wild hilly terrain which guarantees beautiful hunting days. The main game species is the Japanese sika deer, followed by mouflon and fallow deer and a small population of red deer. The chances of successfully hunting sika, fallow deer and mouflon are good. The average quality of trophies is comparable to other similar (mostly forested) areas in this part of the Czech Republic. Fallow buck and mouflon ram trophies up to silver medal, sika stag trophies up to gold medal. Local hunting guides are able to adapt the hunt to the needs and wishes of the clients. However, the nature of the terrain requires a certain level of physical fitness.
