ALPINE CHAMOIS HUNTING IN SLOVENIA

HUNTING AREA FOR CHAMOIS

The total area for hunting Chamois in this part of Slovenia extends from the western Karavanke and along the Kamnik-Savinja Alps toward the Logar Valley and sizes around 43,000 hectares. We are talking about an area with the best preserved habitats of highland and mountains. It represents the very peak of the European preserved natural heritage considering its biodiversity. The hunting ground is divided into 13 hunting districts. Each district has its own professional hunter. The most important type of game in the hunting ground are chamois that quality-wise belong to the European top. The characteristic of the hunting grounds is also a viable population of mature alpine ibex and great trophy specimens. In the hunting ground hunting guests may, in addition to chamois and alpine ibex, also hunt roe deer, red deer, mouflon and wild boar, while there are also other wildlife and game species, such as fox, badger, wild cat, skunk, pine marten, stone marten, stoat, least weasel, otter, marmot.

ORGANISATION OF HUNTING DAYS FOR CHAMOIS AND EQUIPMENT

The hunt can be arranged regardless of the physical condition of the hunting guest. The professional hunter is used to select different altitude of the hunting area according needs and wishes of the guest. The most common types of hunting are stalking and stand hunting from a high seat. As per equipment we recommend guests to bring robust footwear, appropriate clothing (high moutains), a stick, proper physical fitness, a rifle which according to his needs can be calibrated before the hunt begins, and a backpack, as well as a steady hand and a good eyesight. Chamois may only be taken by rifles with minimum Caliber, bullet weight and hitting power stated below.

	Minimum caliber (mm / inch)	Minimum bullet weight (g)	Minimum hitting power on 100 m (J)
Chamois	6,0 / .243	6,0	1.800

VISIT SLOVENIA

Slovenia, a green country, where the mountains meet the sea and Pannonian Basins. It offers wide green forests and charming towns. You will be surprised how on only 20 271 km2 of land there can be such a natural, historical and architectural richness.

Starting from the area the Bled lake where from the lake side you can admire the Alps peaks. On a tiny island in the middle of the lake there is the oldest Slovenian castle dating back to the 1004. As the capital of the Slovenian Alps is considered the town of Kranj with its charming historical center and rich cultural events calendar.

Not to be missed is definitely the capital city, Ljubljana. Given its location it is very similar half to a Mediterranean town and half to Mittel Europe city such as Vienna or Prague. Its history dates back to the Roman empire period when the first village was settled in this area. Second biggest city of Maribor has a "shorter" history when the first written documents are dates to 1204, and both offer charming historical centers and vivid cultural life.

Slovenia is also rich in castles, manors, fortresses, and fortification systems. These were built at various times during the medieval, Renaissance, and Baroque periods, and the first traces of their construction date all the way back to antiquity.

SLOVENIAN GASTRONOMY

Food is an essential part of travel - and that's certainly true of Slovenia. For such a small country the variety of taste for a foodie is incredible. Alpine dishes are a total contrast to those found along the Adriatic coast, while foods in the Karst region and Pannonian Plain offer yet more flavours and cooking techniques. In the summer months there are myriad food festivals and open kitchens celebrating food in all its glory. Slovenia is particularly proud of its indigenous wines, some of which have become part of the protected geographical indication. Look out for teran, refošk, rebula and cviček. The black velvet grapevine (modra kavčina) is officially recognised as being more than 400 years old and is in the Guinness Book of Records as the oldest grapevine in the world, still producing its noble fruit.

BOOKING OF HUNTING STAY/PAYMENT TERMS

Booking of the hunting trip is provided through the advance payment. The amount will be customized for each client based on the specific request.

The remaining payment will be done based on the ordered package and trophy, prior the hunt with bank transfer. At the end of the hunt a final calculation will be done based on the actual trophy hunted and the guest will be either refunded in case of smaller trophy or will be asked to pay the additional amount in case a stronger trophy was hunted.

There will be a written contract with the client with payment conditions. Against the deposit payment we issue a proforma invoice and proper invoice at the end of the hunt.

Note: as we apply direct prices by hunting areas' owners the prices of trophies in this offer are illustrative that means that there may be a difference (usually insignificant) according the concrete area we will select for your hunt.
